Hancock County Courthouse

The Hancock County Courthouse, located in the center of the Carthage Square, is a beautiful and historical structure worth visiting. Large stained glass windows, mosaic tile, and painted murals highlight the inside of the building, which was completed in 1908. Still an active seat for county government, the Courthouse is an integral part of the city and is considered one of the most beautiful in Illinois.

Kibbe Museum

Dr. Alice L. Kibbe donated her home, personal collections and a Wild Life Preserve for use as a museum and park. A fascinating display of historic artifacts and clothing, as well as several Lincoln pieces, are presented in the museum throughout the year with occasional special exhibits. Located at 306 Walnut Street.

Recreation

The Carthage Park District offers a complete line of sports and recreation facilities, including a municipal swimming pool, lighted tennis courts, one of the area's sportiest 9-hole golf courses, lighted baseball fields, fishing as well as hiking, and jogging. The Park District also provides campsites with electrical hookups, shelter houses, fireplaces and playground equipment.

WOW Park

World of Wonders Playground. An interactive 10,000 square foot wooden playground with slides, mazes, swings, dragons, and a pirate ship to entice your children's imagination. Located at the corner of Locust and Adams Streets.

Visitors' Center

Perhaps its most famous attraction is the Carthage Jail which was the site where the Mormon leader, Joseph Smith Jr., and brother Hyrum, were killed by an angry mob on June 27, 1844. Their action resulted in the Mormons abandoning nearby Nauvoo on their famous trek west that led to the founding of Salt Lake City, Utah. Today, the "old jail" is one of the most well-preserved historic buildings in Carthage. It was constructed of native yellow limestone in 1839-1841. The Visitors Center is open year round for tours free of charge.
